Dear Hiring Manager,

It is with great enthusiasm that I submit my application for the Emergency Medicine Physician Assistant role. The completion of my Masters in Physician Assistant Studies is approaching soon. This program has indefinitely developed my academic and clinical knowledge in medicine but has also taught me pertinent skills. Qualities such as diligence, perseverance, and an eagerness to learn medicine helped me be successful. I increased my medicine competency throughout the clinical year, by focusing on areas that I lacked understanding in and solidifying it. The traits I have honed over the past years, will allow me to exceed the expectations of a certified PA and allow me to take care of patients in the best possible manner.

Prior to PA school, I worked as a medical scribe in the ED where I firsthand observed providers that practiced emergency medicine. I paid close attention to their qualities and traits which were in congruence with mine. This piqued my interest in emergency medicine. Throughout the clinical year, I applied the knowledge I learned to evaluate, diagnose, and treat a variety of patients. I became more adept at recognizing symptoms that required emergent intervention and the treatment for them.

Throughout my rotations I acquired skills that will help me be an adept PA. I am not only acclimated to seeing a large volume of patients per day, but also know a variety of skills. I learned how to conduct FAST and renal ultrasound exams, US guided IVs, casting/splinting. The following is a link to my website that will illustrate my vast experience. <https://jsra.commons.gc.cuny.edu/>. Paying keen attention to details, effectively communicating with team members and time management are skills that I possess and will help me be a successful and competent PA in emergency medicine.

My knowledge, skills, experience, interest combined with my motivation to learn further makes me an ideal candidate for this position. I want to thank you for taking time to review my application. Please do not hesitate to contact me via the email or phone listed above. I am very interested in this position and look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,
Jaspreet Kaur Sra
